Why You Can't Afford To Miss This Opportunity

School business officials across the country are being challenged to provide every student with a quality education in the face of dwindling resources. Learn how to meet this challenge head-on at ASBO International's 91st Annual Meeting and Exhibits.

Learn from experts and practitioners at dozens and dozens of educational sessions.

Discover the latest products and services in the Resource Center.

Hone your skills at the hands-on sessions and at the Information Technology Showcase.

Extend your network of resources and support.

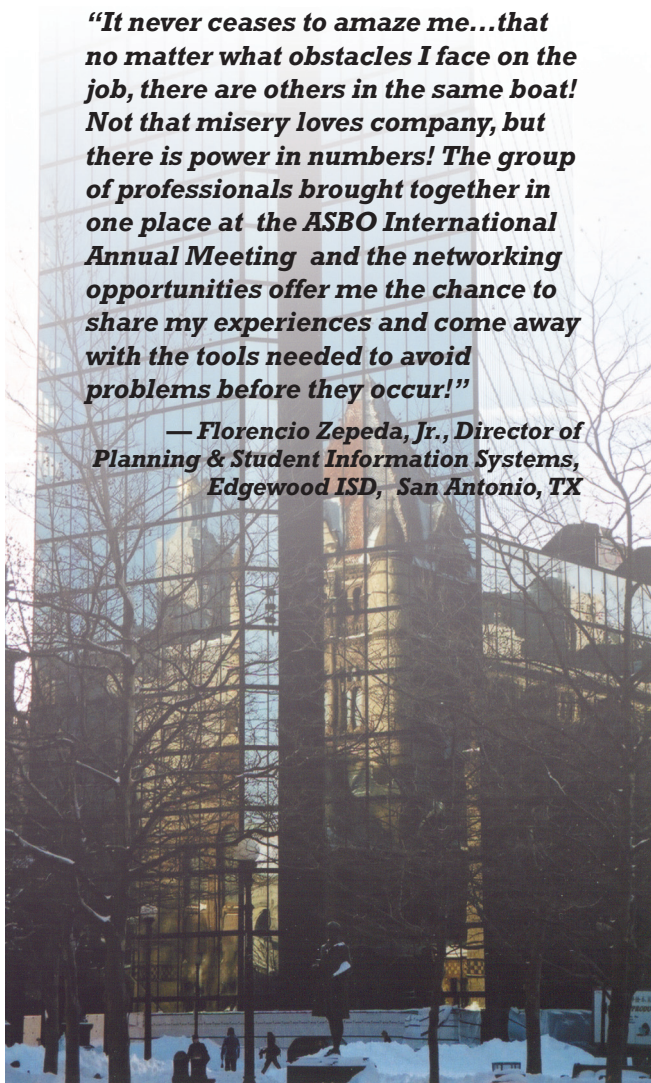

Earn credit. All Pre-Conference Workshops are certified by the International Association of Continuing Education and Training to provide CEUs. Many workshops are also certified by the National Registry of CPE Sponsors to provide you with CPE credits.

New this year! A special selection of Discussion Groups will offer CPEs. Please see ASBO's Web site at www.asbointl.org for details.

"It never ceases to amaze me...that no matter what obstacles I face on the job, there are others in the same boat! Not that misery loves company, but there is power in numbers! The group of professionals brought together in one place at the ASBO International Annual Meeting and the networking opportunities offer me the chance to share my experiences and come away with the tools needed to avoid problems before they occur!"

Boston boasts the "First Hotel" in 1808 as well as the first YMCA 43 years later in 1851. Where you choose to sleep is your decision...but here are some of our recommendations.
