

RCTC Report
October 2007

RCTC

Classes for Term II begin the week of October 29. We are still getting calls for registration so an exact number is not yet available. We have two new instructors beginning this term.

As usual, welding classes are full and we have a waiting list. In addition, we have several businesses expressing an interest in training and testing employees in welding.

In November, we will be providing Millcreek Community Hospital with ten hours of training in Microsoft Office skills at their facility.

New Choices/ New Options

Classes continue at the Erie CareerLink and we have another program scheduled to begin there on November 12. The new guidelines require additional hours of activities for each participant before graduating from the program. Five recent graduates are enrolled in classes at RCTC for Term II.
