Dear Instructors,

The Tech Honor Society would like to apologize for the misunderstandings involving Penny Wars. To help with any confusion, here is a list of rules for Penny Rules:

- ✦ Each lab has been assigned a jug. The goal is to collect more pennies in your jug than the other labs/offices.
- ✦ Sabotage is possible any silver coins or bills in jugs will be subtracted from the penny total for that class.
- ✦ Any silver placed in the jug must stay in them!!! You can go sabotage the class that put silver in yours but not the same coins they used.
- ✦ Sabotage can be by one student from each lab:
  - Before classes
  - Am ~ 8:05-8:10 and 10:40- 10:45
  - Pm ~ 12:00-12:05 and 2:40-2:45
  - During Break
  - After school
  - Interrupting class is not allowed!!
- ✦ Also, the jugs should be placed somewhere in the class where it is easily seen; no hiding the jugs!
- ✦ Any class caught cheating will be disqualified!!!!

Penny Wars is meant to be a fun way to interact with students from different labs but it is not supposed to be disruptive.
