Special Education

Thank you to our instructional aides that assisted with the National Food Safety Certification testing for the Culinary Arts, Early Childhood Education, and Tourism and Hospitality students with special needs.

On Wednesday May 31, Sandy and Pat will meet with the county counselors to thank them for all of their help and support throughout this school year. We will also ask them to review our comprehensive lists of next year's students to make sure that we have properly identified all of the students with disabilities who will be attending ECTS in the fall. After we make these recommended changes to the database, we will then send the rosters of all of our new students to each school districts special education supervisors to make the final identification of our students with disabilities.

Literacy

As the school year winds up, students are busy finishing writing assignments such as resumes, cover letters, and final writing assignments that sum up particular units. Our seniors have done many different versions and updates on each of these documents.
