

Erie County Technical School
Admission Coordinator Board Report August 2017

We have kept up with the changes in admission status over the summer. There have been minimal changes and most are due to families moving. I have received several applications for the upcoming school year. After the first day of school applicants will be invited to visit programs with openings to determine if it is a good fit for the students. The final day for schedule changes at ECTS will be September 14.

The First 8 Days of School Activities are planned and ready to be implemented. Students will enjoy Minute to Win It games, team building activities, a “Light at the End of the Tunnel” activity and a home school spirit picnic. All of these activities are designed to help students get to know each other or become reacquainted and bring the ECTS student body together as a whole.

The new school year in Admissions begins as soon as one ends. I have been planning for the upcoming school year over the summer and have already sent the first mailing (JOC members should have received an ECTS important date magnet). Watch the mail for the fall marketing mailings beginning in September. I have also begun to schedule meetings in each district with the Guidance Counselors to set the recruitment schedule.

Open houses and 9th grade orientations are a great opportunity to connect with students and families. ECTS has been represented at Seneca and Ft. LeBoeuf. Other schools are scheduled for the fall.

I am looking forward to a great school year in Admissions!
